

PRESENT PERFECT

CONTINUOUS

SPEAKING ACTIVITY (STRIPS)

The snow started in the morning. It's 4 pm, but it is still snowing.

I began working on the project on Monday. It's Friday, but I'm still working on it.

The dog started barking at midnight. It's 4 am, and it is still barking.

We started waiting for the train 25 minutes ago. It's late, but the train hasn't arrived yet.

Claire began looking for a job in December. It's March now, but she hasn't found a job yet.

My father started painting the walls five hours ago. He hasn't finished yet.

The party started at 7 pm. It's 11 pm now, but it is still going on.

The kids started swimming in the pool an hour ago. It's cold now, but they are still swimming.

They started hiking in the morning. It's afternoon now, but they are still hiking.

My mother went shopping three hours ago. She is still shopping.

He began studying for the exam two hours ago. It's difficult, but he is still studying.

The restaurant started serving breakfast at 7 am. It's 10 am now, but they are still serving.